Satnav notes:

Some satnavs will try and bring you in from the south via the minor roads from St Austell. These are quite narrow and not recommended for larger vehicles. We recommend coming in from the Newquay road (A3058) as detailed below. Also the postcode position is sometimes shown at Little Crugwallins, which is between the railway bridges. We are south of the lines, over both little bridges.

From Outside Cornwall / the East

Directions	Road
From the East	A30
Leave A30 at the St Austell junction (roundabout above A30) onto A391 , signposted St Austell and Eden Project	A391 St Austell
At roundabout, take second exit. B3274 for Carthew and Wheal Martyn Continue down this road, past the China Clay museum (Wheal Martyn). Through top of St Austell (sharp right bend and continue straight though first traffic lights).	4.5 miles to roundabout B3274 Carthew 3.5 miles
As you come out of St Austell, at second set of traffic lights, turn right on A3058 to Newquay . Note that this turning is badly signposted at the junction.	A3058 Newquay
Go along A3058 through Trewoon. Go under railway bridge and 1 mile later at the Lanjeth sign, turn left for Burngullow and Sticker at the brown B&B tourist sign (not the junction just before for Burngullow only).	Left for Burngullow and Sticker
Go down this lane for about half a mile, over 1 stone bridge, past Little Crugwallins, over a second stone railway bridge. Our lane is the first turn on the right after the second bridge, with the brown tourist sign and our name on the bin holder.	Right into Crugwallins lane
Go down this lane a short way and you will see our gate on the left. Open the gate (careful of possible dogs with other guests), and you have arrived - welcome
